Trees and Lights Gala coming to the Nugget

By Kayla Anderson
Sparks Tribune

As we get closer to Christmas, the annual Trees and Lights Gala to be held at the Nugget Casino Resort will delight and amaze those who love embracing the holiday spirit. To benefit Safe Embrace, the charity gala will feature a gallery of decorated Christmas trees, wreaths, and silent/live auctions with gift baskets that can be delivered straight to your home.

Annie Grogan will be playing the harp for the first half of the event followed by the Great Gatsby Jazz Band as guests are treated to a 3-course meal of salad, steak, prawns, and a dessert trio. The Trees and Lights Gala is always held at this time of the year so that people buying trees and wreaths have them in time for Thanksgiving.

Beautiful holiday-themed displays will be auctioned off and attendees of this black tie event may also enjoy live music, dancing, and a catered dinner. Last year, the first Trees and Lights Gala was held at Whitney Peak Hotel in Reno but organizers decided to move it over to the Nugget because it offers a much larger space to host the intricately decorated Christmas trees.

"The Nugget has been remodeling their resort and has offered to give Safe Embrace many perks to holding it at the Ballroom because they believe so strongly in our mission," says Safe Embrace Executive Assistant Jackie McKinney.

VANDALS DAMAGE HEADSTONES AT HISTORIC RENO CEMETERY

RENO — Reno police are investigating damage to several headstones in an apparent attack of vandalism at an historic cemetery near the University of Nevada campus.

Police say at least four headstones at Hillside Cemetery were damaged late Saturday or early Sunday. The markers date to the 1800s and are considered of historic value.

Authorities estimate the damage in the range of $15,000 to $20,000.

The cemetery is the final resting place for a number of the area's early pioneers, including a congressman and Paiute Chief Johnson Sides, who worked as an interpreter and "peace-maker" for the U.S. Army.

The cemetery's owner stirred up controversy last year when he announced plans to dig up 1,000 graves and relocate them to make room for development. The plans were put on hold in the face of opposition from family members and local residents.

NEW YORK KIDNAPPING SUSPECT ARRESTED IN SOUTHERN NEVADA

PAHRUMP — A 23-year-old man sought in connection with the disappearance of a woman in upstate New York has been arrested in southern Nevada on charges of kidnapping, sexual assault and battery with a deadly weapon.

The Nye County sheriff's office says they arrested Jon Turner of Elmira, New York after the 25-year-old victim managed to escape Thursday from a motel in Beatty about 120 miles (193 kilometers) northwest of Las Vegas.

She says Turner allegedly beat and choked her then left her unconscious on a street before taking her back to the motel and handcuffing her to furniture.

Deputies say he eventually injured her with a hatchet. Investigators determined the pair had been reported missing in New York in late August.

Turner was being held Monday in the Nye County Jail on $275,000 bail. It's not clear if he has a lawyer.

MURDER-SUICIDE SUSPECTED AT NORTH LAKE TAHOE MOTEL

KINGS BEACH, Calif. — Authorities are investigating an apparent murder-suicide at a motel on the north shore of Lake Tahoe.

The Placer County sheriff's office originally said they were investigating what appeared to be a homicide after deputies responding to a report of shots fired found two victims at the Northwood Pines Motel in Kings Beach at about 4 p.m. Saturday.

But the sheriff's office said in a statement Monday afternoon a preliminary investigation indicates the manager of the long-term rental motel shot and killed a female tenant before turning the gun on himself.

Deputies say the manager showed up at the woman's room, started arguing then pulled out a gun and shot her. He also fired at the woman's boyfriend but missed as the boyfriend escaped through a bathroom window.

OFFICIAL: 4 INMATES HURT IN FIGHT AT TOP-SECURITY ELY PRISON

ELY — A state official says a fight in a wing of Nevada's maximum-security prison in Ely left four inmates injured, including two who were taken to hospitals in Las Vegas, 250 miles away.

Department of Corrections spokeswoman Brooke Keast didn't immediately say Friday what sparked the melee involving men using hand-made weapons about 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at Ely State Prison.

She says about 40 inmates in two groups were involved, and that guards contained the fighting.

Keast says two inmates were treated at local hospitals, one underwent surgery and all four were returned to the prison by Friday.

She described the injuries as stab wounds that were not life-threatening.

No staff members were injured.

Ely State Prison has about 1,100 inmates, and houses the state's death row and execution chamber.

MINOR INJURIES AS SMALL PLANE LANDS ON LAS VEGAS GOLF COURSE

LAS VEGAS — A pilot and passenger came away with only minor injuries when their small plane made an emergency crash-landing into a pond on a Las Vegas golf course.

Las Vegas Fire and Rescue spokesman Tim Szymanski says the pilot reported that the plane's engine failed Thursday and moments later reported that he was in the pond at Painted Desert Golf Club.

Szymanski says the pilot made a smart, split-second decision to take the plane down in an area where no buildings were and no one on the ground would be hurt.

The pair climbed out of the plane and met paramedics on a nearby street.

NAMES RELEASED OF 2 VICTIMS OF FATAL ACCIDENT AT NEVADA MINE

BATTLE MOUNTAIN — The owner of a northern Nevada gold mine where two workers were killed in a collision involving a large haul truck has released the names of the victim.

SSR Mining Inc. says Pete Kuhn was a safety superintendent at the Marigold Mine in Valmy along U.S. Interstate 80 northwest of Battle Mountain. Omar Bernal was an open pit operator.

They were riding in a van that was run over by the truck Tuesday afternoon.

Seven trainees in the van were treated for minor injuries and released from an area hospital. The driver of the haul truck was hospitalized for treatment of shock.

Paul Benson, president and CEO of the mining company based in British Columbia, said Wednesday it will take some time to determine what caused the accident. The U.S. Mine Safety and Health Administration is investigating.

STRETCH OF NEVADA HIGHWAY HONORS FALLEN BLM FIREFIGHTERS

WINNEMUCCA — A stretch of state highway in northern Nevada is being named after two former firefighters for the U.S. Bureau of Land Management who died in the line of duty.

Gov. Brian Sandoval joined state transportation officials and others Thursday at the dedication honoring Will Hawkins and Jacob O'Malley along State Route 140 north of Winnemucca near the Oregon line.

The two men died in a single-vehicle rollover crash on the highway when a tire blew out in July 2016 while on a routine patrol searching for lightning-sparked fires.

O'Malley was from Zephyr Cove and Hawkins was from Reno. Friends and family members gathered at Thursday's ceremony to unveil signs in each direction designating a 12-mile stretch of State Route 140 in their honor.

Gala

2016 Trees and Lights Gala event and Safe Embrace had 15-17 trees and 5-7 wreaths donated. For the 2017 Trees and Lights Gala, the nonprofit expects a higher attendance rate and has already received confirmation of more than 30 trees to be auctioned off at the gala.

Safe Embrace has a goal to raise $50,000 through the event and is more than halfway to reaching its goal in ticket sales and sponsorships. This is the charity's biggest fundraising event of the year and allows them to raise money for projects that federal and foundation grants do not support. Its main goal for the upcoming year is to raise money to expand its shelter.

"The gala was my conceptual give to Safe Embrace," says Safe Embrace Chairman Jed Spendlove. "Our first year we had 17 trees donated and this year we currently have 32 (expecting 40). There are many creative themes from elegant trees to Nightmare Before Christmas types of trees. Last year's winning design was a Ken and Barbie Home for the Holidays tree, donated by the Broker of Re Max Professionals.

The creative ideas that folks come up with are amazing. The time and effort that companies and individuals put into creating a tree that will bring much needed funding to Safe Embrace is my favorite part. Fundraising for domestic violence and sexual assault is not a sexy or easy cause to get behind, let alone to build awareness about. Trees, wreaths and giving nature of the season helps open the dialog for most people and it has proven to be a great event and I recommend anyone wanting to start the holidays off in an energetic uplifting way to attend the Gala," he adds.

For more information about attending the 2017 Trees and Lights Gala or to reserve a ticket or table, visit <https://treesandlightsgala.com>. Safe Embrace is also adding a morning event for families who may not be able to attend the gala along with giving kids the opportunity to take pictures with Santa. Admission is free for kids for the morning event to be held from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and costs $5 for adults.

Extra waste collection available

Fall is here and colorful leaves are already carpeting neighborhoods. As homeowners take up the task of raking and bagging all that debris, Waste Management wants to remind City of Sparks and Unincorporated Washoe County residential customers about a service option that will make disposal a bit easier. Extra waste collection, no sticker required.

During the month of November residential customers in Sparks and Unincorporated Washoe County may leave an additional six bags, boxes or bundles — not to exceed 3' x 3' or 40 pounds — outside the container on their service day without using an excess waste sticker. This program, which is included in residential services for Sparks and Unincorporated Washoe County, is a great opportunity for homeowners to remove vegetation that might clog storm drains when winter weather arrives.

This excess waste removal is not included in residential rates for City of Reno customers. However, residential customers in the City of Reno may use their excess waste stickers for additional curbside collection during leaf drop season. In addition, four trips to the transfer station per year are included in services for residential customers in Sparks, Reno and Unincorporated Washoe County. Each trip is limited to one standard pick-up truck load (or three cubic yards) of trash per visit. Accounts must be current. Please bring ID or proof of your account.

Got a big clean-up project? Lockwood Regional Landfill has restored weekend hours. The landfill, which is located off exit 23 on I-80 eastbound (2700 Mustang Road) is now open to the public Saturdays 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Signup online at www.WM.com to learn more about your service options, and update your contact information to receive service alerts before winter weather returns.

Early registration for Scheels Turkey Trot ends Nov. 16

Enjoy a healthy serving of family fun at the Scheels Turkey Trot on Thanksgiving Day in Sparks. For nearly two decades, residents and visitors in the Truckee Meadows have greeted the holiday by taking part in this annual running and walking event. It's a great way to burn calories while giving back to the community. This year's event is scheduled to begin at 8:30 a.m. at Scheels and the Sparks Marina.

Turkey Trot participants can choose from a 10K timed run or a 2 mile run/walk. The courses are user-friendly for both runners and walkers. The start and finish line will be located in Scheels parking lot at the Outlets at Legends at Sparks Marina.

Early registration will be held through Nov. 16, with an entry fee of $25 per person. The rate thereafter is $30 per person Nov. 17-19 (online only with 11 a.m. cutoff on Nov. 19), $40 at Scheels packet pick up/registration area (2nd floor) Nov. 20-22, and $60 on race day.

Every runner and walker will receive a long sleeve souvenir shirt, a swag bag, and post-race fruit and refreshments. A portion of proceeds from the event's registration fees benefit Keep Truckee Meadows Beautiful and the City of Sparks Youth Scholarship Fund.

Register for the Scheels Turkey Trot online at active.com or download an entry form at cityofsparks.us. Entry forms are also available at the Sparks Recreation Office, 98 Richards Way and at Scheels, 1200 Scheels Drive. Early registration is recommended to guarantee desired shirt size.

For the comfort and safety of others, dogs, bikes, skateboards, scooters and skates are prohibited at the event. For more information, call (775) 353-7898 or email reinfo@cityofsparks.us.

OBITUARY

DAVID WAYNE MYERS DEAN

David Wayne Myers Dean, Age 47, of Muncie, Indiana, passed away on Thursday, November 2, 2017. Funeral services for David will be held at Clark Family Funeral Chapel in Mt. Pleasant, Mich., on Friday, November 10, 2017, at 2 p.m. with Fr. Don Henkes officiating. Interment will follow in Riverside Cemetery. The family will receive friends the day of the service from 1 p.m. until the time of service.

David, named for Henry David Thoreau, was born March 23, 1970, in Belding, Michigan, the son of Dennis Myers of Sparks and Connie Taylor Dean of Sheridan, Michigan. He proudly served in the U.S. Navy during the Kuwait War.

David married Tereza Sedlbauerova— now a Ball State professor— on June 8, 2002, in Mt. Pleasant. David loved his children and the time spent with them very much and, at the time of his death, was their stay-at-home, full time father. He loved the arts, especially music, and will always be remembered as very kind and generous. David is survived by his wife Tereza of Muncie; children Alicia "Ali" Dean (Dan Crawford) of Lansing, John-Paul Dean and Petr Dean both of Muncie; father Dennis Myers of Sparks; adopted daughter Hannajoe Settlemyre of Owosso; and his granddaughter Aurora of Lansing. He was preceded in death by his mother and stepfather Connie and Lawrence Dean.

Memorial contributions may be made to Rachel's Challenge, 7901 Southpark Plaza #210, Littleton, Colorado 80120.

Nevada accused of shoddy legal aid for rural defendants

Associated Press

CARSON CITY — The American Civil Liberties Union has accused Nevada of routinely violating the constitutional rights of criminal defendants in 11 rural counties by failing to provide them with adequate legal representation when they cannot afford their own lawyers.

"For too many defendants in rural Nevada, the phrase 'innocent until proven guilty' doesn't apply," said Emma Andersson, staff attorney with the ACLU's Criminal Law Reform Project.

The ACLU's Nevada chapter filed a class-action suit in Carson District Court on Thursday naming the state and Gov. Brian Sandoval as defendants.

It alleges indigent defendants are being denied their right to due process under the state system that transfers the job of public defense to individual counties.

The suit says the state lacks adequate oversight of multiple rural counties and their system of contracting attorneys to represent the accused. Under that system, the contract lawyers receive de facto flat fees and have a financial incentive to provide as little legal assistance to their clients as possible, the ACLU said.

"Nevada is shirking its constitutional duty, leaving thousands of defendants at the mercy of failing county-run and county-funded systems," said Franny Forsman, a private practice attorney in Las Vegas who served as a federal public defender in Nevada for more than 20 years.

Sandoval's office will review the lawsuit but believes the state already has taken significant steps to try to improve the current system, his spokeswoman Mari St. Martin said Friday.

The ACLU has filed similar lawsuits in Idaho, Missouri, Utah, California, Washington, Pennsylvania and Louisiana.

Nevada's current system requires counties with populations above 100,000, such as Washoe and Clark, to have a county public defense office. The rural counties cited in the complaint are White Pine, Douglas, Mineral, Nye, Esmeralda, Churchill, Pershing, Eureka, Lander, Lincoln and Lyon.

Amy Rose, ACLU Ne-

vada's legal director, said many of the contracted attorneys have private practices, large caseloads and are more likely to devote time to cases that pay more money. She said they are also more likely to put pressure on public defendants to plead guilty.

Rose said the ACLU realized the scope of the problem in 2008 and since has advocated for a system overhaul.

"The state of Nevada has known for a decade that its rural public defense system doesn't do its job, resulting in injustice after injustice. Yet the state has failed to fix it," she said.

St. Martin said Sandoval has previously worked in collaboration with the Supreme Court, the Legislature "and other advocacy groups on this issue."

Among other things, he signed into law this year a measure creating a rural judicial district, St. Martin said.

"This provides greater access to justice for many living in rural communities," she said in an email.

Sandoval also signed a measure that allows rural defendants to transfer to urban jurisdictions the purposes of utilizing specialty courts, such as drug court or mental health court, and another which created an Indigent Defense Commission, St. Martin said.

"The commission will look at the caseload and workload of defense counsel, minimum standards for legal representation of indigent defendants, and how to fund a statewide indigent defense system," she said.

Nevada presses toward execution with new chief state doctor

By Ken Ritter
Associated Press

LAS VEGAS — Nevada officials pressed Monday toward the first execution of a condemned prison inmate in 11 years, telling a judge the state's top psychiatrist is the interim replacement for the chief state medical officer — an anesthesiologist who quit last week after signing off on the lethal injection plan.

A federal public defender fighting a state prisons plan to use a never-before-tried three-drug combination to kill a death-row inmate suggested to a state court judge that she might want to “push the pause button to make sure everything is in order” before allowing the execution to go forward Nov. 14 as scheduled.

But the inmate advocate, David Anthony, stopped short of asking Clark County District Court Judge Jennifer Togliatti to block the execution of Scott Raymond Dozier, even after the judge expressed her concerns about entering “new frontiers as far as the drugs and the protocol and it happening.”

Dozier, 46, has given up all appeals and has repeatedly told Togliatti in person and in writing that he wants his sentence carried out. He said in court in August he was not really concerned about pain and suffering.

But the twice-convicted murderer who left victims in Las Vegas and Phoenix is letting Anthony and legal colleague Lori Teicher challenge the state method for the execution.

Togliatti, who heard Dozier's jury trial in 2007, scheduled another hearing Wednesday for Dozier to appear by videoconference from Ely State Prison, home of the state's death row and a newly constructed death chamber, to affirm again that he wants to die.

Jordan Smith, a state solicitor general, opened Monday's hearing informing the judge that Dr. Leon Ravin, the state psychiatric medical director since 2015, had taken over at least temporarily as the state's top doctor following the Oct. 30 resignation of Dr. John DiMuro.

That makes Ravin the medical official with responsibility for a scheduled execution using a never-before-tried combination of the sedative diazepam, the powerful synthetic opioid fentanyl and the muscle paralytic cisatracurium.

A family practice physician, Dr. John Scott, who works at the state Lake's Crossing psychiatric hospital in Sparks, will be the attending physician at the execution, Smith said.

Anthony said the chief state medical officer has a key role in an execution protocol. He said he doubted that Ravin was as qualified to head an execution protocol as DiMuro, who operated pain management practices in the Reno area before he was named the state medical chief in July 2016.

“There really is a really big difference between a psychiatrist and an anesthesiologist,” the inmate advocate said. “We have concerns about his expertise.”

Ravin was a medical doctor in his native country of Belarus before receiving psychiatry training at the Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic at the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center beginning in 2001, according to his state biography.

DiMuro left a sworn statement for the court saying that his departure had nothing to do with the Dozier execution, and that he stood by the lethal injection protocol he had prepared.

Attempts by The Associated Press to reach DiMuro at telephone numbers associated with him have not been successful. He did not immediately respond to a telephone message left Monday with a woman who identified herself as a family member but refused to provide her name.

State Department of Health and Human Services spokeswoman Chrystal Main said DiMuro's resignation was a personnel matter about which she could provide no information.

Raiders blast Cougs; playoff matches set

Sparks Tribune

The 4A Northern football playoff brackets are now set after the final weekend of regular season games that saw Reed dismantle Spanish Springs 49-7 on the Cougars home field Friday night.

The game was a battle for second place in the High Desert League, and the Raiders claimed that spot and earned the second seed in the regional playoffs that begin tomorrow. Spanish Springs finished in third place with the third seed.

Reed raced out an early lead in the matchup of rival teams and took a 21-7 lead into the half. The defense that has been strong all year held the Cougs scoreless in the second half, highlighted by a pair of interceptions of Tristan Szabo by Chase Merrill. The Raiders also got to the freshman quarterback all night and recorded five sacks, including two by Randy Nemedez.

Senior quarterback Cameron Emerson had another solid game with two touchdowns on 152 yards through the air and Reed's rushing attack accounted for five scores. George Moreno accounted for two of those scores on just four touches and 110 yards.

With the regular season in the rearview mirror, the teams now turn their attention to the post-season. Reed (8-2, 4-1) is set to take on Galena (5-4, 2-2) who finished third in the Sierra League standings tomorrow night at 7 p.m. at home. The Grizzlies have lost two of their last three games and are coming off a 47-22 home loss to Damonte Ranch.

On the other side of the bracket, Spanish Springs (5-5, 3-2) will battle Bishop Manogue (7-3, 3-1) Thursday night at 7 p.m. The Miners had won four straight before falling 42-21 at Damonte Ranch on Oct. 26.

The winners of those games will play Nov. 17 at sites to be determined.

Raiders season ended after regional playoff loss

By Steve Ranson
Special to the Sparks Tribune

The Greenwave played its best defensive game in a month, yet it was the running game that rolled Friday night under a full moon in an NIAA 3A Northern League football playoff game.

Fallon quarterback Sean McCormick rushed for four touchdowns, while Brock Richardson ran for three more as the Wave, 9-2 overall, up-ended Sparks 49-13 at the Edward Arciniega Athletic Complex. Sparks ends its season at 4-7, while Fallon travels to Spring Creek on Thursday for a semifinal regional game.

McCormick began the season as a running back but shifted to quarterback in late September after starter Elijah Jackson suffered a season-ending leg injury. Against Sparks, McCormick rushed for three first-quarter touchdowns of 16, 41 and 31 yards, and Tallon Amezcua booted a trio of extra points as Fallon jumped out to a 21-0 lead before Sparks scored. On the other side of the ball, the defense cut off Sparks outside rushing game and allowed only 132 yards rushing and 96 yards passing.

Fallon coach Brooke Hill said the Greenwave, which defeated Sparks 48-23 in mid-October, executed much better against the Raiders.

"Our kids were focused and executed," Hill said. "Our weapons were back tonight. Our defense played well, we got some turnovers and the defensive line played better as did the secondary. We had a collective effort on both sides of the ball."

The Greenwave wasted no time in taking the lead against Sparks, which made its first postseason appearance in nine years. On the Raiders' first possession, McCormick intercepted a pass on the Greenwave 38. On Fallon's fourth play – second down and 10 from the 17 – McCormick cradled the ball to score the game's first touchdown barely 2 minutes into the game.

Railroaders on to state tourney after winning regional title

Sparks Tribune

The impressive season continued for the Sparks boys soccer team last week when they won three games in three days to win the regional tournament at Lowry High School in Winnemucca and advance to state.

The Railroaders started the tourney by knocking off a familiar opponent in Elko, 3-1. It was the third time this season that Sparks has beaten the Indians.

But it was Friday's game against North Tahoe that changed the entire week.

Cougars fall in semis to Galena; Raiders season ended early

Sparks Tribune

The Cougs earned a shut-out in their opening game of the 4A regional soccer tourney and defeated Damonte Ranch 2-0 to advance to the semifinals on Nov. 1 where they met Galena.

The Grizzlies got the semifinal by knocking off Reed

3-1 and ending its season Oct. 30. Senior Ashlee Saville scored the lone goal for the Raiders on an assist from fellow senior Sydnee McGrath, but it wasn't enough to stop Galena who had three goals from three players.

That set up a matchup of two teams that were at or near the top of their respective divisions all season in Spanish Springs and Galena. The Grizzlies scored a second half goal and won the game 1-0 and advancing to the title game.

McQueen went on to upset undefeated Galena 1-0 in the regional championship on Saturday. Both teams advanced to this week's state tournament.

put Fallon in Sparks' territory with a 19-yard pass to his brother Tommy to the Railroaders 41. On the next play, Sean McCormick burst through the line and outraced the Railroaders to the end zone. A good drive produced McCormick's third touchdown of the quarter. Fallon began its third series from its own 28-yard line. On the seventh play, McCormick kept his head down through the defensive line and then slipped past three tacklers to score with 4:58 left in the opening period.

McCormick, who gained a season-high 261 yards on 14 carries, took off from the Sparks' 27 and headed toward the Fallon sideline before changing course to the opposite side of the field. Once he turned the corner on the Sparks' side, he sprinted to the end zone for his fourth touchdown of the night.

McCormick said his teammates responded well for Fallon's first playoff game.

"We came out to play from the start of the first whistle," he said. "For the last two weeks, we've been slow and sloppy and going through the motions. This week we came out, fired up and read, and we dominated them from the start."

Not only was McCormick churning up the grass with his running, but Richardson also showed no effects of a pulled groin from last week as he scored on runs of 2, 3 and 6 yards.

Before Richardson scored his first touchdown, Sparks cut the lead on trickery. Carlos Rodriguez faked a punt and snaked his way through the Fallon line 56-yards, and his point after made the score 21-7.

"We played the first half as good a half we have played all year except for that fake punt," Hill said.

On Fallon's ensuing series, however, McCormick took the kickoff on the Greenwave 5-yard line and brought it back 28 yards before the Railroaders' Colby Bowman tackled him. McCormick gained 35 yards on five plays, and he also completed a pass to Christian Nemeth for 14 yards. On a second and 4 from the 13, McCormick ran wide to his left before he was pushed out at the 1. On the next play, Richardson scored from the 1.

Richardson, who rushed for 98 yards on 13 carries, scored two touchdowns within 3 minutes in the third quarter. On a four-play drive, he ran for 30 yards before being dragged down at the 7. Two plays later he barreled in from 3 yards out. McCormick ran the 2-point conversion that gave Fallon a 42-7 lead. Because Fallon had a 35-point lead, a running clock was implemented.

Richardson also scored the final Greenwave touchdown from the 6-yard line with 8:12 left in the game. Fireworks happened after Richardson scored. A Sparks player punched a Fallon lineman who then responded with a punch of his own. Both players were ejected.

McCormick said the Greenwave's game plan against Sparks worked effective.

"Our offensive coordinator Coach O (Lalo Otuafi) sees the line and where it needs to execute and block," he said.

McCormick said the running holes opened, and the running backs were able to punch through the line.

Sparks scored the game's final touchdown. After Rodriguez ran the kickoff to the 35, an unsportsmanlike penalty called on Fallon placed the ball near midfield. Sparks' quarterback Vashisth Patel engineered the six-play drive that resulted in a 40-yard touchdown pass to his favorite target, wide receiver Alex Choate.

Patel finished the night completing 6 of 11 passes for 91 yards and two interceptions. Choate snared three of those passes for 79 yards.

First-year Sparks coach Brad Rose may have been disappointed with the loss, but he remained upbeat how the Railroaders progressed this year.

"This is our first year with the program, and we made a lot of progress," he said of the players and coaching staff. "But Fallon showed its playoff experience tonight."

Rose had praise for Rodriguez's running and kicking, and commended Patel for his final game as a senior.

"He stepped up during the year and became a total quarterback," Rose said. "Next year we have a strong group coming up with the juniors."

Wolf Pack win big in 'Throwback' game

Nevada sophomore Josh Hall scored 27 points as the Wolf Pack defeated Dominican University 101-55 in a "Throwback" game played at the Virginia Street Gym before a sellout crowd of 1,581 on Friday night. The Pack went 3-0 during its exhibition season and scored 100 points for the second consecutive game.

Nevada opens the regular season hosting Idaho next Friday at 7 p.m. at Lawlor Events Center.

The game was tied at 13 before a 27-3 run by the Wolf Pack put them up 40-16 with 5:04 to play in the first half. Sophomore Charlie Tooley's 3-pointer with 2:26 to play gave Nevada its largest lead of the night at 48 points.

The scoreboard at the VSG was unable to handle the Pack's offensive output as only 99 points could be displayed in the scoreboard.

Hall connected on 9-of-11 field goals in the game which included 7-of-8 from behind the arc. Junior Cody Martin finished with 16 points and grabbed nine rebounds. Senior Kendall Stephens netted 13 points and junior Jordan Caroline had 10. Nine of the 10 players who saw action scored.

Senior Elijah Foster just missed a double-double with his 10 rebounds and nine points. Junior point guard Lindsey Drew dished

Rypien, Mattison lead Boise State past Nevada, 41-14

Associated Press

BOISE, Idaho — Despite Boise State quarterback Brett Rypien's sparkling passing performance in the Broncos' 41-14 rout of Nevada on Saturday night, he's not above receiving unconventional coaching.

After leaping up and catching a 15-yard wide receiver pass from Cedrick Wilson, Rypien went back to the huddle and received some direction from Wilson. "Cedrick told me that's what he wanted me to do on the next deep ball just throw it up there so he could make a play," Rypien said after the game. "So, I said, 'All right.' And he just went up and made the play."

The play Rypien referred to was a 44-yard grab by Wilson on a goal line in double coverage, a scoring strike that helped Boise State retake the lead early in the second quarter and never look back.

"Brett is seeing things on the field," Boise State coach Bryan Harsin said. "His vision is better, and his passing is better."

Rypien, who has shared playing time this season with graduate transfer Montell Cozart, has thrived in the dual system. He finished 20-of-27 passing for 258 yards and two touchdowns.

Boise State (7-2, 5-0 Mountain West Conference) won its fifth straight game and also recorded its fifth consecutive victory over conference rivals.

Nevada (1-8, 1-4), which lost its previous two games by a combined total of five points against Colorado State and Air Force, looked overmatched after putting up a fight early.

After falling behind 7-0 and then again at 14-10 early in the second quarter, Boise State turned to Rypien to spark the Broncos' offense. The result was more than enough firepower to extinguish any hopes Nevada had of an upset.

Rypien's touchdown pass to Wilson gave the Broncos a 17-14 lead, but Rypien was far from finished.

He led Boise State on its next two drives that ended with touchdowns, one on a 1-yard scoring run by Ryan Wolpin and the other on another 25-yard pass to Jake Rohas as the Broncos built a 31-14 halftime lead.

Alexander Mattison, who rushed for 64 yards and two touchdowns, added a 6-yard TD jaunt on the Broncos' opening drive of the second half to take a 38-14 lead and the Wolfpack never threatened after that.

Nevada's Kelton Moore was the first running back to eclipse the 100-yard mark against Boise State's defense this season, finishing with 106 yards. But an inaccurate passing game that threw three interceptions stunted the Wolfpack's offense all game long.

"We had too many turnovers," Nevada coach Jay Norvell said. "We ran the ball well early, but we weren't sharp enough in the passing game to stay in it."

TAKEAWAYS

Nevada quarterback Ty Gangi threw three interceptions in a single game for the third time this season, something the Wolfpack can ill-afford the rest of the season if they hope to notch a victory in their final three games. Nevada's offense has been steadily improving under Norvell in his first year as head coach, but it's clear there is little margin for error with his young team.

Boise State stumbled out of the gate with losses in September to Washington State and Virginia, but the Broncos have turned their season around. If Boise State wins two of its next three conference games, the Broncos will have a chance to win their first Mountain West title since 2014.

"We've been here before," Harsin said, recalling the past two seasons when the Spanish Springs and Reed both had its seasons ended in the regional tournament, just in different ways.

The top seeded Cougs got goals from Anibal Gonzales, Allen Somera and Jorge Camacho-Villa and went on to defeat Bishop Manogue in their first round matchup.

Spanish Springs went on to face Wooster last Thursday in the regional semifinals where the teams battled to a scoreless draw. After a scoreless overtime period, the Colts finally broke the tie in the second overtime to get the 1-0 win and bring the Cougs season to a halt.

Reed fell to Wooster in the first round quarterfinal game on Halloween, 3-2.

North Valleys defeated Wooster in the title game on Saturday. Both teams will represent the North in the state tournament this week.

Wildfires: An ounce of prevention worth a pound of cure

Wildfires have become an increasingly costly and devastating problem in the West over the past decades as federal land managers have increasingly restricted logging and road building and maintenance.

The average number of acres burned each year in the past decade has topped 6 million, compared to 3 million a year in the 1970s. As of the end of October of this year there already had been nearly 53,000 fires that burned more than 8.8 million acres. In 2015, 9.7 million acres burned by the end of October.

The cost just for fighting wildfires this year is approaching a record breaking $3 billion, and that doesn't take into account the economic costs of burned homes, agriculture and infrastructure. The wine country fires in mid-October in northern California are estimated to have resulted in $85 billion in economic losses.

The cost of fighting fires for the Forest Service has grown over the recent years from 15 percent of the agency's annual budget to 55 percent.

Currently there are efforts on two fronts to change land management practices and spending from the costly and dangerous battling of fires to actually preventing them from occurring.

Earlier this year, Secretary of the Interior Ryan Zinke, who is over the Bureau of Land Management, and Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue, who heads the Forest Service, directed all federal land agencies to adopt more aggressive efforts to prevent wildfire through robust fuels reduction and other prevention techniques.

"This administration will take a serious turn from the past and will proactively work to prevent forest fires through aggressive and scientific fuels reduction management to save lives, homes, and wildlife habitat. It is well settled that the steady accumulation and thickening of vegetation in

Men: Never lose the joy of The Boy within

Quick! Don't think, just answer. The song Puff, the Magic Dragon: happy song or sad song?

I've been asking that question for years. With rare exception, folks hum a few bars, and say "Happy song."

Puff, the Magic Dragon is, from start to finish, a tragedy. It is the story of a culture that requires little boys to sacrifice their imagination as the necessary price for becoming a man. And, what becomes of men, separated from their imaginations? It's not good. Life has fewer dimensions. Less vitality. Certainly less laughter and play. Really dull. Colorless.

I'm pretty sure there is no imagination in hell. That's one of the torments.

In every healthy man there lives and breathes The Boy. Real men never lose access to this energy. The Boy is playful. Boyish. Ornery. Full of pranks and shenanigans. Sometimes crude and off-color.

The man will often ally with his wife at the dinner table and share her stern expression in response to kids laughing at burps and farts. But just let mom be absent: often The Boy in the man will be laughing, too. Perhaps even leading the behavior.

Ever watched 3 men descend on a 4th man's driveway loading up for a fishing trip? It looks, feels, and often sounds like 4 kids loading into a car to go to Disneyland.

Little boys are ever-ready with spontaneous wonder. The "wow." When you find a dead bug, you squeal. When you master something, you simply crow: "Mom! Mom! MOM! Look!"

Healthy men retain this capacity for spontaneous wonder, sharing, and crowing. How does this work?

STEVEN KALAS
HUMAN MATTERS

Can I fix it? Can I build one? Can I take it apart and put it back together? What's the next adventure? Look what I can do! It often seems like mere showing off. And, it includes that, yes, but at its core is a sharing. A celebration. This is just too much fun to keep to myself.

Fathers often nurture their boyish wonder by playing with their children. They play make-believe. They do projects. They admire their children. Openly and shamelessly. They put the kids to bed, stand for a moment at the doorway, and think, "Wow."

Woe to the man who has severed ties with the boy within himself, and woe to the actual boys he might be charged to rear. Girls, too.

The Boy in the Man is at once endearing and exasperating. This is the part of men that makes women roll their eyes. But, also the part of a healthy man that women would sorely miss if it was gone.

If you call your husband from work at 2 o'clock, and tell him you're feeling randy and you're wondering what he's doing later in the evening, The Boy in the man will lock on to this conversation like he locks on to Christmas Day. And, should you, in the course of the next several hours, find that the moment has passed, perhaps even forget your solicitation, he will have on his face exactly the same expression the children of Whoville had when they awoke on Christmas morning to find the Grinch had stolen Christmas.

The enthusiasm, imagination, and wonder of The Boy deserves to be respected by women, if often begrudgingly. The Boy is childlike. Not childish.

I didn't see The Boy inside my father very often. But, one memory is seared. 1976. NBA Western Conference Championship. Game 6. The upstart Phoenix Suns trying to tie the series against the defending champion Golden State Warriors. Suns by 1.11 seconds on the clock. Warriors ball. Dad and I are sitting courtside under the Warriors' basket.

The inbound pass goes to rookie Jamaal Wilkes, who turns to shoot. Suns' forward Garfield Heard soars. I remember thinking he looked like an eagle, his hand like a talon. He swats the would-be game winner into the stands as the buzzer sounds.

I exploded out of my seat, screaming. Suddenly I'm dancing with this beautiful black woman. My hand is around her waist, and we pirouette in frantic, joyful circles. She kisses me. I think to myself, "Hmm ... I wonder what her husband thinks of this." I turn to look.

Her husband is dancing, too. With my dad. Not before or since have I seen my father dance. It's a sight to behold. Here, for a moment, my father has forgotten to be homophobic. Forgotten his acculturated self-conscious discomfort around black people.

My father is dancing. I shall cherish that picture until the day I die. I have never loved him more.

Tax reform bill divides Nevada delegation along party lines

Like everything else to come out of Washington, the House tax reform bill introduced this past week has turned into a partisan hissing match in a fact-free zone.

Republicans hail it as an economy stimulating second coming, while Democrats decry it as a sop to the wealthy and a death knell for the middle class.

The bill lowers the corporate tax rate from 35 percent to 20 percent, doubles the standard deduction, lowers the individual tax rates for all but millionaires, allows 100 percent expensing of business costs instead of the current 50 percent, eliminates deductions for state and local taxes, except for property taxes, and allows mortgage interest deduction.

Republican Dean Heller said the bill will provide tax relief for middle class families, while Democrat Catherine Cortez Masto said the bill rewards corporations and the rich at the expense of working families, seniors and the poor.

"As a member of the U.S. Senate's tax-writing committee, I'm waking up each and every day with the sole focus of ensuring that Nevada's hardworking families and small business owners come out ahead when the Senate passes its final product," Heller said in a statement, adding, "I'm going to continue fighting for a major tax overhaul that will help my state and push for policies that will create jobs, boost growth, and make it easier for Nevadans to provide a better life for their kids."

A Cortez Masto press release fulminated, "Republicans in Congress have one priority: ripping off America's middle class and working families. Rather than transparently writing a bill that puts economic

Busy news week

Last week was a big one for major news stories. The first, of course, would be the horrendous killing in New York City. As usual, both NY Governor Cuomo and NY Mayor DeBlasio sought to bring in the issue of gun control when there was no gun utilized in the attack. To be exact, the driver of the truck was brandishing two relatively harmless weapons, one of which was a pellet gun and the other a paint-ball gun. Are we to assume the two officials meant to limit these types of weapons?

To show the current PC atmosphere that exists in this country which was widely promulgated by the Obama administration when they coined the phrase, "overseas contingency operations" to replace the word "war" as we were being fired upon and returning fire is the perfect example.

Another salient point in the on-going discussion of whether we are at war or not is the fact that the previous administration never uttered the words, "radical Islamic terrorism". While it is true that all Muslims are not terrorists, it is also equally true that all terrorists appear to be Muslim.

What is probably going to be necessary to satisfy both Trump and the Congress is a formal Declaration of War against ISIS and every other terrorist organization on the planet. If that is done, it must be specifically noted that this is not a religious war, but a war against terrorism in general.

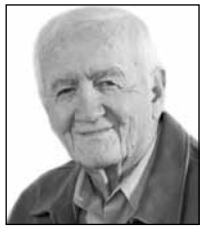

As to the recent New York tragedy, there is an on-going controversy over whether the perpetrator should be viewed as an ordinary criminal or as an enemy combatant. If the latter is decided, he should be shipped to Guantanamo and tried by Military Tribunal.

The most rational suggestion offered by a former CIA operative was to "Put more eyes on suspects." His thought is to use the same technique that was used to bring down the Mob or Mafia. This approach would probably mean that suspected Mosques should receive much tougher surveillance. When such installations are promoting Jihad, they should immediately be closed down.

A man who knows a lot about war, Oliver North, has vehemently stated, "The enemy has declared war on us, but so far we have not declared war on the enemy."

she did that, she would surely scare the day-lights out of the trick-or-treaters.  The biggest bombshell to hit the political scene last week was the release of former DNC Chairman Donna Brazile's book about the Hillary Clinton takeover of the DNC in 2016. According to her tome, a deal was struck between Hillary and the disgraced former DNC Chairman Debbie Wasserman Schultz. The basic premise was that Hillary would raise money for the DNC if she could exert control over the way the DNC was operated. The current DNC chair has soundly disavowed any knowledge or continuation of the Clinton/DNC agreement. Brazile is to be commended for being the first Democrat to come out in criticism of the Clinton collusion against Bernie Sanders. *****

One of the precepts of legendary University of Nevada Journalism Prof Higgenbotham was "Get it first, but first get it right." I mention this in connection with my distaste for second-hand reporting. When the author of a news story relies on previously printed information, he or she tends to embellish the story in their own style. If a reporter was not actually on the scene of an event, his reporting is usually slightly erroneous.

A recent example of this problem appeared in the August edition of the Dayton Valley Dispatch, written by one Laura Tennant. In reporting on Marilyn Monroe's death, she stated that it occurred on August 5, two years after The Misfits production began. I don't know if Ms. Tennant was around when The Misfits was shot, but I happened to be. To rebut her statement or any other erroneous one, I usually refer to a book entitled, "The Making of The Misfits" by writer James Goode. All through the filming, Goode kept a daily diary of the events interspersed with riveting interviews of the principals. According to Mr. Goode's journal, production on The Misfits began on July 18, rather than on August 5. *****

Two other big stories last week were the first-ever World Series win by the Houston Astros in Game 7 and the unveiling of the long-awaited Tax Reform Proposal in Washington DC.

Locally, the most important news story last week was the announcement by AG Adam Laxalt that he will be a Republican candidate for Governor next year.

Throwing the book at big guns and little cowboys

"If nothing was done after Newtown, nothing will be done after Las Vegas."

So predicted BBC network anchor Katty Kay to Charlie Rose on PBS last week, days before the latest ballistic butcher shop, a Baptist church near San Antonio.

Newtown is the Connecticut hamlet where a deranged young man mowed down 26 teachers and little kids at Sandy Hook Elementary School in 2012. He did so after killing his mother who paid the ultimate price for having a household full of unsecured mass murder implementations.

Irony of ironies, at deadline (pardon the expression), the Tejas body count is exactly 26 muerto.

I am most revolted by weaklings who assert that all of this is somehow "God's will," an attitude reminiscent of 1990 Texas Republican gubernatorial nominee Clayton Williams who once echoed mercurial Indiana/Texas Tech basketball coach Bobby Knight. Both likened rape to bad weather: "If it's inevitable, just relax and enjoy it."

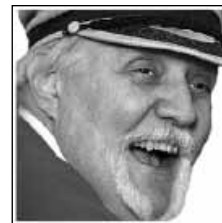

Late, great columnist Molly Ivins noted that Williams was really running for state cowboy. (Fortunately, he was trounced by the late, great Ann Richards.)

In many respects, cowboys illustrate the American sickness. We are a barely-adolescent nation still enamored of playing cowboys and Indians with our six-shooters.

Created by 19th Century pulp fiction and turned into pseudo-fact by Hollywood, the cowboy myth afflicts us today and will for the foreseeable future.

Cowboy mythology has been perverted to sell Americans just about anything, from cancer to crash-prone vehicles. Cowboy hats with upturned brims? A creation of Hollywood directors needing to see actors' eyes, the better to market mass-produced products by claiming that buying them makes you a rebel who breaks the rules. Baah.

We glorify the Teddy Roosevelt cliché of rugged individualism when America is actually a textbook case of teamwork. A culture reinforcing every male as an island of his own wonderfulness results in the macho mamas' boys banana republics that plague western societies from Italy to Mexico to Tierra del Fuego.

WRITING BEAUTIFULLY. In his (ahem) slightly fictionalized autobiography "I Want to Quit Winners," Harolds Club founder Harold Smith, Sr., wrote of being so wary of robbery back in the Reno of the 1930s that he carried a gun at work.

One of his alumni has just published a memoir of the old days. Barbara Riff Davis has written "Craps and the Showgirl." (LeRue Press 2017)

It's available at Grassroots Books on Gentry Way, west of Reno Toyota.

Start with the pictures. Ms. Davis in her international showgirl days was movie star material. Hereabouts, she was also famous as the spouse of longtime Elks Club manager Rick Burgess.

Proving that she is not afraid to associate with those of questionable reputation, she has reprinted (with permission) my column about the implosion of Harolds Club. (Tribune 12-26-1999, see Barbwire.US/)

You can find more at her website, ShowGirlPublishing.com where she writes "The book is a true story about a little crippled girl who grew up to be a showgirl. Not just that, it is full of rare adventures - all true that I think you will enjoy. I am writing two other books and I hope to hear from lots of folks soon."

I've been trying to locate the local Harolds alumni network which may feel free to contact me.

growth and American's financial security first, the current Republican tax proposal targets Nevada families. The latest Republican proposals would put our country even further in debt, take money out of working families pocketbooks ..."

Cortez Masto also claimed, "The average tax increase on families nationwide earning up to $86,100 would be $794."

But the Washington Post fact checked that claim and found it was based on a report by Democrats on the Joint Economic Committee who actually said, "If enacted, the Republican tax reform proposal would saddle 8 million households that earn up to $86,100 with an average tax increase of $794 ..."

But you see, there are 122 million households making less than $86,100. Thus only 6.5 percent of those households would see a tax hike of that amount. The Post reported that more than 97 million, or 80 percent, of that group would get a tax cut averaging about $450.

Republicans say the bill would result in a tax savings of $1,182 for a typical household of four with gross income of $59,000, resulting in their tax bill being only $400.

Las Vegas Democratic Rep. Dina Titus joined the partisan fray by calling the bill "a red herring tax plan that relies on the myth of trickle-down economics in order to give the nation's top earners a handout."

Titus said she could not see how working families could save money if the bill removes certain deductions, including the one for state and local sales taxes — ignoring the fact 70 percent of Americans take the standard deduction and do not itemize, nor the fact Nevadans who do itemize can deduct only about 10 percent as much as taxpayers in high-tax states such as California and New York and thus are subsidizing those states.

Democratic Rep. Ruben Kihuen, who represents southern rural Nevada and northern Clark County, used the occasion to solicit contributions while slamming the bill by saying, "We expected Paul Ryan and the Republicans would bend over backwards to make big corporations and the super rich the winners in this plan, and that's exactly what they did. Meanwhile, it's all at your expense."

Republican Congressman Mark Amodei, who represents northern Nevada, took a more nuanced approach, promising in an email to constituents to thoroughly research the 429-page bill, while also saying, "I think we can all agree the American taxpayer would be better off if Congress were to reform our current tax code in favor of a system that is simpler, fairer, and has lower tax rates."

The bill also eliminates the $7,500 tax credit for purchasing electric cars, such as Teslas, whose batteries are built in Sparks, and drops the tax exemption for municipal bonds to finance sports stadiums, such as the one planned for Las Vegas for the Raiders.

Next, Congress needs to address the runaway federal spending.

"These fires are more damaging, more costly, and threaten the safety and security of both the public and firefighters. In recent fire reviews, I have heard this described as 'a new normal.' It is unacceptable that we should be satisfied with the status quo. We must be innovative and where new authorities are needed, we will work with our colleagues in Congress to craft management solutions that will benefit our public lands for generations to come."

On that Congressional front, this past week the House passed and sent to the Senate the Resilient Federal Forests Act, sponsored by Rep. Bruce Westerman, an Arkansas Republican and licensed forester, that would shorten the environmental review process for forest thinning, curb frivolous litigation by self-styled environmentalists and allow federal land managers to contract with private lumber mills to remove dead and dying trees and use the proceeds of the timber sale to better manage the lands.

The bill passed 232-188, largely along party lines, with less than a dozen Democratic votes. Nevada Republican Rep. Mark Amodei voted in favor of the bill, while Nevada Democrats Dina Titus, Jacky Rosen and Ruben Kihuen opposed it.

"This is a bill based on a simple idea — that we must do more to expand active management in federal forests," Republican Rep. Rob Bishop of Utah, chairman of the House Natural Resources Committee, was quoted as saying. "With this bill, we tackle not only the symptoms of the crisis but also its root causes. We provide the resources for our firefighters, but also tools for our land managers to improve conditions on the ground and proactively mitigate the threat of wildfire."

Rep. Amodei spoke on the floor of the House in 2015 in support of a similar bill that passed the House but died in the Senate, noting the need for fire prevention because once high desert forests in Nevada burn it takes a hundred years for them to grow back. He also noted that the fires devastate endangered and threatened species and their habitat.

Oddly enough, one of the main arguments against the bill by the environmentalists is that logging threatens endangered and threatened species. More so than raging wildfire?

We applaud the efforts by Secretaries Zinke and Perdue to spend our money more wisely and encourage the Senate to pass the the Resilient Federal Forests Act. — TM

ASTRO ADVICE WEEKLY

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Try not to focus on what others do wrong on the 7th, 8th and 9th. Being a little self-critical will help you realize that it takes two to tango. Be willing to compromise and work as a team player to overcome problems you have with partners, peers and those you live with.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Past experience will help you out of a sticky situation on the 7th, 8th and 9th. Instead of waiting to see what happens, take a position that will allow you to appear neutral, yet give you the opportunity to make a move regardless of what takes place.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): On the 7th, 8th and 9th, your efforts are best spent making sure you finish what you start. Refuse to let anyone persuade you to put his or her responsibilities before your own. Someone from your past will let you down again if you are too accommodating or open about your personal life.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Express your feelings and be open about what you expect from others and what you are willing to give in return on the 7th, 8th and 9th. Greater interaction with children, your lover or friends you share similarities with will encourage togetherness and a chance to address disputes or pending problems.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): A reserved approach to domestic expenditures is encouraged on the 7th, 8th and 9th. Please the ones you love with your fun-loving, playful attitude instead of trying to buy affection. Discuss your intentions with the powers that be before you put them into motion.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): A progressive approach on the 7th, 8th and 9th will help you accomplish what you set out to do. Offering assistance to others will put you in a position to ask for something in return. Your actions will have a greater impact on others than voicing your opinion or offering criticism.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Avoid getting into a debate on the 7th, 8th and 9th. Making plans to get together with someone from your past will cause upset in your personal life. Someone close to you will feel insecure or threatened by your plans. Consider the consequences if you aren't being mindful.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): You'll discover a lot if you reconnect with someone from your past on the 7th, 8th and 9th. A change in plans will take you in an unusual direction. Use your imagination and take a creative approach to getting ahead. You'll face uncertainty on the 10th and 11th if you don't live up to your promises.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Deal with institutions on the 7th, 8th and 9th, and get personal paperwork up to date and out of the way. Don't let an emotional situation cost you. Negotiate any settlement or contract from a practical position. Initiate personal change and discover more about your background on the 10th and 11th.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Let your creative imagination take over on the 7th, 8th and 9th when dealing with personal or professional partnerships. Offer insight into the plans you want to initiate, and you will get a better response and support. Romance is on the rise. Uncertainty will arise on the 10th and 11th if a financial discrepancy crops up.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Upgrade your skills and knowledge on the 7th, 8th and 9th. Staying current with technology and the latest trends will put you in a good position when faced with competition and opportunity. You'll have the discipline to enforce positive change. Take your time on the 10th and 11th. Decisions are best made after serious thought and discussions.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You can make positive changes to your home or the way you live on the 7th, 8th and 9th that will ease stress and help you gain control over a situation that has been curtailing your freedom. Children, love and commitment will enhance your personal life. Joint ventures are not in your best interest on the 10th and 11th.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle.

Divorced mom mulls overruling dad on daughter's social life

DEAR ABBY: My ex-husband and I have been divorced for three years and share custody of our 10-year-old daughter, who lives with me full time. Her father lives out of state and sees her during the summer months.

Last year my daughter had an incident (an "I'll show you mine, you show me yours" kind of thing) with a friend at school, and my ex and I decided they should no longer hang out after school alone anymore. A year has gone by, and because they're in the same social circle at school, my ex is refusing to allow her to go to any events this friend attends (birthdays, sleepovers), even though there is always adult supervision.

It makes me sad to see her miss out, and I understand that the incident is normal for kids that age. What can I do? Since she does not live with him, can I overrule? -- I'LL SHOW YOU MINE

DEAR I'LL SHOW YOU MINE: I'm sorry your ex-husband doesn't understand that sexual curiosity in children is normal, because it appears he has overreacted. You cannot dictate the rules in his household. However, while your daughter is living with you during the winter months, he cannot overrule your parenting decisions either.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 43-year-old woman who is trying to win back my high school sweetheart. He contacted me through Facebook seven years ago, and we've been talking off and on ever since.

I have never gotten over him, but he has had two bad

DEAR ABBY
BY JEANNE PHILLIPS

past relationships and says he isn't ready for another one at this time. What can I do to let him know I haven't gotten over him since high school and that I'd love to try again?

Our relationship ended because my parents thought I was too young to have a boyfriend. I was 15 and he was 17. He says he would love to try again "one day" -- just not now. What are some things I could do to let him know, "Hey, I'm still here, and I want a second chance" without scaring him away? -- HIGH SCHOOL SWEETHEART IN FLORIDA

DEAR SWEETHEART: He KNOWS you are "still here" and want a second chance. Because he still isn't ready to give a romance with you another try, face it -- the status quo could last indefinitely. You have devoted seven precious years to trying to sway him. It's time for you to move on. How he reacts as you begin to disengage will let you know if you have made the right decision.

DEAR ABBY: Since the last presidential election our oldest son has stopped communicating with us. He would text us, but his texts were so disrespectful and hurtful we had to block him from our phones. He's a grown man and we love him. What should we do? -- DISAPPOINTED PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: The last presidential election has proved to be so divisive that it has ended friendships and caused rifts in some families. Blocking your son from your phones was a mistake. It would have been better to have just told him you would prefer not to discuss politics via text messages.

Until both sides can start listening respectfully to each other, healing and understanding will not happen. Unblock your phone and let your son know that he hurt your feelings, which is why you did it.

DEAR ABBY: What is the appropriate response when I get an invitation to go somewhere and I must decline because I can't afford it or don't want to pay for it? I'm trying to cut my expenses, and I'm embarrassed that I can't afford any new expenses.

I appreciate the invitations, and sometimes, if it's worth it to me, I will accept. I don't want to lie when I really want to say, "This expense isn't worth it to me." What can I say that won't hurt anyone's feelings and won't get me caught in a lie? -- DON'T WANT TO LIE

DEAR DON'T WANT TO LIE: It isn't shameful to admit to someone that money is tight and you have to cut expenses, so you can't attend an event. It's something that everyone should be able to identify with. However, you should refrain from saying the expense "isn't worth it to you," because it comes across as judgmental, and the person may take offense.

Hearing Time: 10:00 a.m.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF:
CHRISANTHE KARZAS ARGERES aka
CHRISANTHE K. ARGERES aka CHRISANTHE ARGERES; aka.
CHRIS ARGERES,
Deceased.

NOTICE OF HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Petitioner, TAMARA ANGELA KELLY, by and through her attorney of record, Julia S. Gold, of the Law Offices of Julia S. Gold, P.C., have filed a PETITION FOR PROBATE OF WILL; ISSUANCE OF LETTERS OF TESTAMENTARY; FOR AUTHORIZATION TO ADMINISTER THE ESTATE UNDER THE INDEPENDENT ADMINISTRATION OF ESTATES ACT WITH FULL AUTHORITY; AND FOR GENERAL ADMINISTRATION, and has set the hearing on Wednesday, December 6, 2017, at 10:00 a.m., in the Probate Division of the Second Judicial District Court, 75 Court Street, Reno, Nevada, 89501.

The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Acts. This will avoid the need to obtain court approval for many actions taken in connection with the estate. However, before taking certain actions, the Personal Representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action. Independent administration authority will be granted unless good cause is shown why it should not be.

The matter will be approved without further hearing unless an objection is filed. You do not need to appear unless you wish to object.

AFFIRMATION

Pursuant to NRS 239B.030, the undersigned does hereby affirm that the preceding document does not contain the social security number of any person.

IN THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF WASHOE

Case No.: CV17-00794
Dept. No. 4

NORTHERN NEVADA CAPITAL, LLC, a Nevada limited liability company, Plaintiff, vs.

SHAN JIANG; PATRICIA NOLAN; IMTIAZ AHMED; NOWSHABA AHMED; and CINDY GONZALES-MORASCH, Defendants.

SUMMONS

TO THE DEFENDANT: SHAN JIANG and CINDY GONZALES-MORASCH, YOU HAVE BEEN SUED. THE COURT MAY DECIDE AGAINST YOU WITHOUT YOUR BEING HEARD UNLESS YOU RESPOND IN WRITING WITHIN 20 DAYS. READ THE INFORMATION BELOW VERY CAREFULLY.

A civil complaint has been filed by the plaintiff against you for the relief as set forth in that document (see Complaint filed on April 25, 2017). The object of this action is to quiet title on the property commonly known as 4606 Neil Road, #173, Reno, Nevada, 89502, Washoe County APN: 025-543-70 and more particularly described as follows: All that certain real property situate in the City of Reno, County of Washoe, State of Nevada described as follows: PARCEL 1: Unit 274, of PECKHAM GARDENS, a Condominium Subdivision, filed in the office of the Washoe County Recorder, State of Nevada, on October 21, 1977, File No. 493934. PARCEL 2: An undivided 1/276th interest in the Common Area of Peckham Gardens, a Condominium, according to the map thereof, filed in the office of the County Recorder of Washoe County, State of Nevada, on October 21, 1977. 1. If you intend to defend this lawsuit, you must do the following within 20 days after service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service: a. File with the Clerk of the Court, whose address is shown below, a formal written answer to the complaint or petition, along with the appropriate filing fees, in accordance with the rules of the Court, and; b. Serve a copy of your answer upon the attorney whose name and address is shown below. 2. Unless you respond, a default will be entered upon application of the plaintiff and this Court may enter a judgment against you for the relief demanded in the complaint or petition.

Dated April 26, 2017.

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT, in accordance with a Notice of Lien filed by Skyline Mobile Home Park ("Skyline"), 7900 North Virginia Street, Reno, Nevada 89506 dated July 14, 2017, a 1969 Fleetwood 24' x 60' manufactured home, serial no. S2020, will be sold by public auction November 17, 2017 at 9:00 a.m. to satisfy the lien claimed for unpaid rent, late fees and costs of sale. The sale will take place at 7900 North Virginia Street #101, Reno, Nevada, and will be made without covenant or warranty, express or implied, as to title, possession, encumbrance or condition of the home. The lien may be satisfied prior to the sale with payment in the amount of $3,572.59

Notice: (1) Skyline does not permit non -Owner occupied homes, therefore, pursuant to NRS 118B.170(1) a prospective purchaser planning to reside in Skyline must make application for tenancy. If the tenant application is not approved, the successful bidder for this home must remove it from Skyline within 10 business days after purchase; (2) The successful bidder will be responsible for payment of any property taxes due, if any, and a $40.00 title fee prior to the State of Nevada Manufactured Housing Division issuing a Certificate of Ownership.

You may contest the validity of the lien by filing a Notice of Opposition in the Justice Court of Reno Township on the form provided by the court, or you may use any other legal procedure available to you, including as set forth in NRS 108.350 and 108.355. If you challenge the lien by court process, including the Justices' Court process, and do not prevail the court can order that you pay for the other party's attorney's fees and court costs. If that happens the fees and costs can be added to the lien amount that you will have to pay.
